Community Panel on Senior Housing Choices

Residents discuss their decisions and thinking when choosing housing options as seniors. Our panelists took three different approaches. As we will hear, this is not a singular decision, because what might work for you today might not work tomorrow.

Financial Considerations for Senior Housing and Memory Care

This panel addresses the two largest costs often associated with our later years: housing and memory care. It explores strategies residents are pursuing, what to do with the big family house, and alternatives that you might not have heard about.
